IN THE COURT OF APPEAL OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

SECOND APPELLATE DISTRICT

DIVISION FIVE

In re J.G., a Person Coming Under the Juvenile Court Law.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF CHILDREN AND FAMILY SERVICES

Plaintiff and Respondent,

v.

L.P.,

Defendant and Appellant.

B277597

(Los Angeles County Super. Ct. No. DK14720)

APPEAL from an order of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, Robin R. Kesler, Referee. Dismissed. Janette Freeman Cochran, under appointment by the Court of Appeal, for Defendant and Appellant. Mary C. Wickham, County Counsel, R. Keith Davis, Assistant County Counsel and Tracey M. Blount, Deputy County Counsel for Plaintiff and Respondent

The mother, Lidia P., has appealed from the dispositional order in a dependency case. The Department of Children and Family Services has moved to dismiss the mother's appeal. We agree the appeal is most and order dismissal.

On July 28, 2016, the juvenile court issued the dispositional order. The juvenile court ordered the child, Jade G., removed from the mother's custody. The court ordered the child be in the mother's home. On January 30, 2017, the juvenile court terminated jurisdiction and ordered the child returned to the mother's custody. We agree the appeal is most as there is no effectual relief we can provide to the mother. (Eye Dog Foundation v. State Board of Guide Dogs for the Blind (1967) 67 Cal.2d 536, 541; In re B.L. (2012) 204 Cal.App.4th 1111, 1117; In re Melissa R. (2009) 177 Cal.App.4th 24, 34; In re B.D. (2008) 159 Cal.App.4th 1218, 1240-1241; In re Karen G. (2004) 121 Cal.App.4th 1384, 1390; In re Albert G. (2003) 113 Cal.App.4th 132, 135; In re Dani R. (2001) 89 Cal.App.4th 402, 405-406; In re Jessica K. (2000) 79 Cal.App.4th 1313, 1315-1316.) The argument that the orders in this case may have "sever and unfair" consequences in future dependency litigation is speculative. There is no merit to the mother's argument the appeal is not moot because she may once again in the future be the subject to dependency litigation.

The appeal is dismissed.
